A modern cold storage plant will be erected at the State prison farm near Atmore, according to recent announcement by the State Board of Administration. The type of plant and equipment selected would cost approximately $18,000. It is stated, but the actual cost to the State will be only about $12,000.00. Lumber for the plant will be cut and milled on State land by convict labor, which accounts for the saving. Perhaps the most important use of the plant will be for cooling strawberries prior to shipment, which will not only preserve the berries, but make possible heavier loadings of cars by cutting down ice requirements. Strawberries are being grown on an extensive scale on the prison farm near Atmore. The plant will also be used for chilling vegetables prior to shipment and for the storage of large quantities of potatoes. The storage plant will be ready for operation April 1st, and it is estimated will pay for itself within three years through saving effected by eliminating waste.

The POULTRY YARD
A Department Devoted To Building Up the Poultry Industry In Coffee County
BY J. F. BRUNSON

I told you last week that I would give you information the week relative to baby chicks and broilers. I wish to vary this, giving you some general information.

BUYING BABY CHICKS—Baby chicks can be bought from eight cents up to fifty cents each, according to the stock and laying record behind them. Don't buy these cheap chicks expecting to get good layers. One hen will lay 100 eggs per year and another will lay 200 per year on the same feed and a few hens go over 300 per year. Now ask yourself which one of these chicks do you wish to raise. If the 100 egg chick is worth eight cents each, the 200 egg chick will be the cheapest at sixteen cents each. If the people who are buying chicks will adhere closely to the plan of eliminating the poor layers in Coffee County, the day will soon dawn upon us that there is no need for a hatchery to be made in the poultry business in the South. When you see notice of another poultry camp coming to Elba, in the town where they are holding a camp, let me suggest that you give your flock a rigid culling and get rid of the poor layers and all non-layers on your yards. When you hatch chicks at home it is very essential to know what hen is laying and what eggs are good size and shape. It is bad judgment to hatch eggs from a poor layer. The eggs may show a good size and shape, but what you are going to get is what is hatched—it will still be a poor layer.

PROFITS—Profits come in the extra eggs you secure from your yard by giving your flock the proper care and attention. If a little arrangement and care is given to your flock and in so doing you secure an extra 24 eggs from each hen, you can quickly see what it means to you. This is one of the failings of our Southern people—we fail to prepare and fail to give proper attention to our property which in return often net us a loss when otherwise we would be receiving a nice profit.

GREATNESS
I intended a special gathering a few weeks ago at which the presenters were asked to decide who were the greatest men of all time. Several persons of name and note were given to the men who named these:

Greatest men: Buddha, Julius Caesar, St. Paul, Charles Darwin and Karl Marx. Greatest women: Joan of Arc, Queen Elizabeth, Florence Nightingale, Queen Victoria, Susan B. Anthony.

It is an interesting game, and proves nothing. The greatest men and women who ever lived are probably unknown to history. The man who discovered how to make a fire and the woman who first cooked a rabbit over the fire certainly started something which changed the whole world.

Place Big Chick Order

WEDOWE, Ala., March 11.—The cooperative purchasing idea is rapidly gaining favor among Randolph County farmers. Evidence of this is presented in a report by L. M. Hollingsworth, county agent.

Farmers of the county placed the largest order for baby chicks that has been made since they began cooperative purchasing. It calls for 25,000 chicks. At the end of February orders had been looked for 815 tons of fertilizer, 55 bushels of soybean and 25 tons of poultry feed.

Fifteen new members joined the farm bureau during February.

Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Brannon, of Enterprise, visited friends in Elba Sunday.

Miss Ella Story, of Dothan, spent the days in Elba the first of the week, in interest of the Woodman Circle.

Mr. and Mrs. F. C. Stough spent Monday and Tuesday in Montgomery.

Louise Morgan is leaving this week for Livingston State Teachers College, where she will attend the spring term of school.

Mrs. B. H. Mitchell and Miss Edna Mitchell spent several days in Montgomery last week.

Mr. John H. Wilkerson, of Troy, was a business visitor to Elba Monday.

Judge W. L. Parks and Mr. C. L. McGuffee, of Troy, spent Monday in Elba.

Mr. W. M. Bushing, of Samson, visited Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Brannon Monday.

"Clean chicks saved the problem of protecting paying pullets. Cheap chicks are usually not worth the trouble. Accredited chicks—clean, disease-free chicks"—G. A. Trollope, head poultryman, Auburn.

Alabama Will Spend
Large Sum In Building

The State of Alabama and its various counties and municipalities will spend for public improvements and buildings during 1936 an estimated sum of $70,813,000, according to figures furnished by the Executive Department to R. P. Lamont, U. S. Secretary of Commerce. Of the above amount, $10,000,000 will be spent by the State for roads and bridges and $4,000,000 by the State for buildings for higher institutions of learning.

$50,813,000 by the counties and municipalities for public improvements and buildings, and $6,000,000 by counties and municipalities for school buildings. These figures do not include expenditures for expansion of industries and public utilities doing business in the State.

Home-grown feed is the basis of successful dairying.

"Milk, butter and other dairy products are superior foods because of the vitamins they contain."—A. D. Burke, head dairyman, Auburn.

More money, by three million pounds, moved out of storage in the United States in January this year than in January last year. But there is still 60 million pounds in storage as compared with 26 million pounds on February 1, 1936.
